The Diamond

A photograph of St. George's Church, a Gothic Revival style building with a prominent square tower and large Gothic windows. The church is set on a grassy hill with bare trees in the foreground and background. A white box with a black border is overlaid on the upper right portion of the image, containing the text 'St. George's Church' in a black cursive font.

Manchester

A photograph of a man in a blue and white striped long-sleeved shirt and khaki pants, standing in a library. He is looking up at a high shelf of books, with his right hand raised as if to reach for one. The library has dark wood bookshelves filled with books. There are decorative stained glass windows and warm lighting fixtures. A semi-transparent white box with the word 'Manchester' in a cursive font is overlaid on the left side of the image.
